Task force for the future of German professional football with three working groups – DFL informs clubs of next steps

At the Extraordinary Members Assembly of the 36 clubs in the Bundesliga and Bundesliga 2, the DFL today provided information about the next steps involved in the formation of the “Taskforce Zukunft Profifussball” (Task force for the future of German professional football). There are plans to set up three working groups for this purpose, and they are due to commence operations in September.

The task force's approach will essentially consist of reflecting on past developments, discussing matters interdisciplinary and eventually devising practical ways forward. The working groups are to comprise representatives of the clubs in the Bundesliga and Bundesliga 2, the Executive Committee of the DFL and DFL GmbH, as well as external representatives from a wide range of areas so that the relevant issues can be discussed from diverse perspectives.

The Executive Committee of the DFL will decide on the make-up of the working groups soon. The Executive Committee has already started to focus on some initial questions recently, and these will be refined over the coming weeks before serving as the basis for discussion among the working groups. It goes without saying that further matters may arise as the working groups address the content involved. The plan is for the Executive Committee of the DFL and the DFL Members Assembly, as the bodies responsible, to review the findings of the working groups and consider what actions to take.
